

There should be no fee assigned to any amateur license.

Amateurs serve the public on a no-charge basis.

Any fee for an amateur license is an outrage and insult.

Changes in addresses or license class can be dealt with via a phone call or e-mail very quickly.

VEC groups can provide information also and they are not paid either.

An amateur license should be granted for life and at no charge. The attempts to increase fees is only a cover up of poor service by the FCC to the unpaid amateur community. Please stop charging for things that you get for free. Thank you, Tad Burik, K3QC
